Eric and Brian, you have my condolences on the death of your father. I was never in one of "Howie's" art classes, but your dad would still say hello in the halls. I was always a bit envious of those who took your dad's classes after hearing the many stories of fun related by those who were fortunate to be in them.

To Howards family, you have my deepest sympathy. Howard came to Batesville my sophomore year in High School. Even though I did not have him as a teacher in Art, with his backup support for most of the sports, I came to know and respect Howard. He was one of the teacher in the school system that just about every student liked. Most of us became good friends of Howard after graduation. He always came to our class reunions. He was just a very personal guy you loved to be around. Howard left his mark of friendship with a lot of kids in his 37 years. He will be remembered by a lot of people. There are not many people that are remember by so many unless their some kind of celebrity. Howard was a celebrity to us though.
